Every individual at the Club has a role and responsibility to help ensure the safety and welfare of young and vulnerable people.

The Club, as a provider of opportunities for young and vulnerable people in hockey, accepts that it is required to fulfil its duty of care, which means that it must do everything that can be reasonably expected of it to help safeguard and protect young and vulnerable people from any reasonably foreseeable harm.

- Follow England Hockey reporting procedures where there are concerns relating to the safety or welfare of young and vulnerable people

For clarity, policies, procedures and good practice relating to the safeguarding of young and vulnerable people in hockey need to be applied both in relation to activities for young and vulnerable people specifically and where young and vulnerable people may be involved within the adult game. For example, where players or umpires under 18 years of age are incorporated into adult team hockey.

NDHC will follow England Hockey's Reporting Procedures and will make all their members aware that they are subject to the above Regulations if there is a breach of the Policy.

General Safeguarding and Protecting Young and Vulnerable People Principles:

- The safety and welfare of young and vulnerable people is paramount
- All young and vulnerable people, regardless of age, ability, sex, race, religion or belief, ethnic origin, social status or sexual orientation have the right to be protected from harm
- The rights, dignity and worth of all young and vulnerable people should always be respected
- NDHC wishes to promote a telling culture. Everyone within hockey must therefore report all concerns in accordance with England Hockey's reporting procedures.
- It is the responsibility of child protection experts to determine whether or not abuse has taken place but it is everyone's responsibility in hockey to report concerns
- The roles and responsibilities of the statutory agencies in safeguarding young people must be recognised and the procedures of the Local Safeguarding Children Boards must be complied with
- Any policy or procedure is only as effective as the ability and skill of those who operate it
- NDHC is committed to encouraging, and everyone within hockey must recognise and regard as essential, the effective and safe recruitment of all individuals working with young and vulnerable people in hockey
- All those working in hockey, in a paid or voluntary capacity, must abide by England Hockey's Code of Ethics

England Hockey's Role:

As the national governing body, England Hockey will publicise and promote within hockey its Safeguarding Young People Policy, Procedures and Good Practice Guidance. It will also support its affiliated clubs and associations in adopting and implementing their own policies by producing template policies and procedures and through access to appropriate training and education opportunities.

England Hockey is committed to ensuring that concerns relating to the safety and welfare of young people in hockey are taken seriously and acted upon swiftly and appropriately. To achieve this, England Hockey has developed procedures for reporting concerns.

England Hockey recognises the roles and responsibilities of the statutory agencies in safeguarding young people and the responsibilities and expertise of the relevant agencies in determining whether young people have, or may have, been abused or otherwise harmed. England Hockey is committed to complying with the procedures of the Local Safeguarding

Children Boards (LSCB's) ¹. Accordingly, England Hockey will work co-operatively with the relevant statutory agencies on matters relating to safeguarding young people and where England Hockey receives report of a concern, it will refer the matter to the relevant statutory agency where appropriate.

England Hockey is also committed where appropriate, to directly challenging conduct within hockey that is, or may be, harmful to young people. It may, therefore, instigate proceedings under its own Safeguarding and Protecting Young People Complaints and Disciplinary Regulations where concerns or complaints are raised (by sources internal or external to hockey) relating to the safety and welfare of young people. England Hockey will take action against any person or organisation within its jurisdiction whose conduct is found to have harmed a young person in hockey or whose conduct (within or outside hockey) poses or may pose a risk of harm to young people in hockey. England Hockey may also refer matters back to a club for resolution at club level where appropriate.
